

Marius Landsverk

Bachelor Student In Cybersecurity

With a strong foundation in sales, crisis management, and customer service, I have honed my technical problem-solving abilities and leadership skills, particularly in high-pressure environments. My growing interest in cybersecurity has led me to pursue a bachelor's degree in the field at Høgskolen Kristiania, starting this fall. I am a firm believer in lifelong learning and personal growth, and I actively pursue my passions for fitness, gaming, and reading in my leisure time.

Experience

2022 - Present

Syng Pent AS | Syng Mer AS

Bar Supervisor | Bartender

In my role as Bar Supervisor and Bartender at SYNG, I managed a wide range of tasks. This included typical bartender duties, resolving technical issues, and leading a team of 3-4 bartenders and 1-2 security personnel. I was responsible for the overall operation of the venue, accommodating up to 300+ guests in a single evening.

Through this experience, I developed strong leadership skills and the ability to motivate and coordinate a team under stressful conditions. I also enhanced my problem-solving skills, particularly in handling technical issues to ensure smooth operations. Furthermore, I learned to balance the needs of a large number of guests, which has strengthened my customer service and multitasking skills.

2021 - 2022

SOS International

Assistance Coordinator

In my role as an Assistance Coordinator at SOS International, I managed urgent cases for several of Scandinavia's largest insurance companies. This required swift decision-making in stressful situations, coordinating immediate assistance, and collaborating with various emergency services to ensure efficient and effective service delivery.

Through this experience, I have enhanced my problem-solving skills, gained a better understanding of emergency management, and further developed my customer service skills. I have also honed my communication abilities, which have been crucial in coordinating efforts during emergency situations.

2020 - 2021

Phonero

Sales Representative

As a Sales Representative at Phonero (Telia), I managed B2B sales, from the initial contact with potential clients to the signing of contracts.

During my tenure at Phonero (Telia), I significantly developed and improved my sales and negotiation skills. I gained a deeper understanding of the telecommunications sector, which was crucial in providing tailored solutions to business customers. Furthermore, I enhanced my customer service skills, which strengthened my ability to build strong and lasting customer relationships.
